Architect

Description

Medium-Weight Architect | London | Permanent

Up to £65,000 plus travel allowance, health and pension

An established architectural design studio is seeking a Medium-Weight Architect to join its growing London team. This is an opportunity to work on high-quality residential, mixed-use and urban regeneration projects within a collaborative and creative studio environment.

The Role

You will play a key role in supporting project delivery from concept through to technical design, working closely with senior architects and consultants to develop thoughtful, well-executed architecture.

This role would suit an architect with strong design ability, solid technical knowledge and experience working across RIBA Stages 2–4.

About You

- Part II qualified or fully qualified Architect
- 3–6 years' UK practice experience
- Strong design portfolio demonstrating residential or mixed-use experience
- Good understanding of UK planning and building regulations
- Confident in technical detailing and coordination
- Excellent communication and organisational skills
- Proactive and collaborative approach to teamwork

Software Skills

- Revit (essential)
- AutoCAD
- Adobe Creative Suite
- SketchUp / 3D visualisation tools desirable

This is a long term permanent role that could offer career progression. If you are looking for design jobs we will have other opportunities as we broadly cover 'Construction' and all roles that fall within the 'built environment'.
