

Assistant Quantity Surveyor

Description

Up to £35,000, mileage allowance, health and pension (after applicable probationary period)

Our client is a long-established traditional contractor from Hertfordshire. They have a rare opportunity for an Assistant Quantity Surveyor to join their team. This role would suit someone with some prior exposure in the industry, in either a trainee or Junior Quantity Surveying role. They would also consider a recently qualified graduate (Quantity Surveying).

You are looking to forge a career within a well reputed business that will give you the time and training to fulfil your aspirations to run your own projects.

Projects are new build and refurbishment in the retail and care sector, with national projects, however a majority are within London and the South East.

You will embark on a structured training programme, shadowing a Senior Contracts Manager, visiting sites, meeting clients, measuring up and appointing subcontractors. A professional and methodical approach to your work is key, in addition you will be computer literate and proficient with Outlook and Excel.

A FULL UK DRIVING LICENCE IS ESSENTIAL
