

Clients Project Manager

Description

Up to £65,000 p.a. + Bonus, Travel, Health & Pension

Our client is an International Project Management Consultancy operating throughout London and Europe. They urgently require an ambitious building professional to join their highly successful hospitality team in London.

The requirement is for a self-starter from a client side, consultancy / project management background in the hotels / hospitality sector, with the necessary entrepreneurial skills to manage both new build and CAPEX refurbishment projects, from design development, planning and ultimately the delivery to successful completion.

We are looking for a 'construction professional' not a 'hotelier', with a formal qualification/training in either Civil Engineering, Construction Management, Architecture, or possibly Quantity Surveying, but must have a solid foundation in building.

This is a long term opportunity and benefits include a generous basic, bonus incentive, travel allowance, private health cover and pension contribution. The remuneration figure quoted is subject to experience.
