Construction Director

Description

Construction Director – National Contractor – Southern Counties

Greater London / Kent

Up to £120,000 plus generous benefits to include car allowance and generous bonus incentive (up to 20%)

Due to a period of planned expansion our client has an exciting opportunity for an ambitious director to assume control of the Company's building operations in the Southern Counties, ensuring their continued success in this region.

You will be capable of formulating and agreeing with the Board the Company's annual business objectives and will report monthly on the performance of all building operations.

With a solid background in contracting, you will have both public and private sector experience on projects to include commercial, educational and health care, with values typically up to £25million.

You will lead and motivate by example, to ensure all staff within your management perform their duties efficiently.

Trading from a strong position with a full order book for 2021/22, they require a commercially astute director who can adopt a selective approach to the acquisition of new business. Seeking opportunities for profitable business in areas allied to those in which they operate and identify/develop new markets.

This is a senior opportunity and the package on offer reflects the importance of the appointment, offering a highly competitive basic salary, car allowance, family health, generous pension and company profit share/bonus incentive.

Promotion Prospects

These will clearly depend on personal performance, as well as Company success. The organisation wherever possible promotes from within. Successful performance in this position may well lead to a more senior appointment within the Group in the near future.

Please upload your CV to Jamie Pearson, quoting reference: Construction Director JP751 in the strictest of confidence.
