Construction Director

Description

Construction Director – Regional Contracting Business in North Kent

Package Up to £125,000 + First Class Benefits & Profit Share

This is an interesting opportunity with a company that is highly profitable and regarded as a premier building contractor, who have a first-class reputation throughout London, Kent and the Southern Counties.

The Construction Director role requires a true building professional, who is from an operational background, yet commercially minded, with the necessary drive and enthusiasm not only to assist in the procurement of projects, but to adopt the overall control of contracts.

The ability to execute contracts in an efficient and timely manner is paramount, as is the professionalism required to deal effectively with clients and support personnel at all levels.

A background in negotiated, two stage design and build contracts, along with conventional competitive tendering is a pre-requisite and previous involvement in a broad spectrum of commercial projects to include education, leisure, healthcare, both new build and refurbishment with values ranging typically from £5million to £25 million.

The package offered reflects the level and importance of this position, and includes a generous car allowance, family health cover, pension, profit share and bonus incentive, guaranteed within the first year and raising in line with personal performance.
