

Construction Project Manager

Description

Up to £75,000 plus travel & Profit Share Scheme

Our client is an International Consultancy who are one of the leading exponents of Cost and Project Management in the World today. Their specialist hospitality team have been appointed as the client's representative on a series of prestigious newbuild hotel developments in the UK.

As Project Manager you be responsible for overseeing projects from preconstruction through to the successful delivery of each project, ensuring agreed contractual obligations are met, particularly in respect of achieving quality and programme certainty.

It's likely you will be from either a Construction or Project Management background having worked for an internationally recognised consultancy on major building projects (in excess of £50million), specifically hotel developments, new build or refurbishment.

You will be degree qualified in either Construction Management or Engineering and are now looking to further yourself in a dynamic, busy environment that recognises and rewards personal achievement through their company profit share scheme.

They adopt a non-adversarial approach and projects are secured through a transparent tendering process. This is an excellent opportunity to progress within a professional team on projects of distinction.

The salary on offer is highly competitive and in addition offers a generous benefits package, and bonus incentive, in addition private health and pension.

Contacts

Please apply below or upload your CV in strict confidence to Jamie Pearson at Speyhawk Ltd, Construction Specialist quoting the reference: Project Manager Hotels JP682

Employment Type

Full Time

Industry

Construction

Job Location

London

Base Salary

£ 70000 - £ 75000

Date posted

4th February 2020

Valid through

6 March 2020