Design Manager

Description

Up to £100,000 plus car allowance, health pension and profit share

Our client is a well-established traditional building contractor who are highly successful in the delivery of traditional, 2 Stage D&B and framework contracts in the education, healthcare, heritage and residential sectors, operating throughout London and the South East.

Due to their continued growth they are now looking to recruit a Design Manager to join their team, working on conceptual, pre & post-contract design management. This is a challenging and exciting career opportunity offering excellent long-term prospects.

You are likely to be qualified in either Construction Management, Engineering or worked your way up the management ladder, but more importantly you must have a solid work history gained in a building/contracting environment. Due to the seniority of the role a minimum of 5 years' experience in the technical co-ordination of building projects with values typically up to £20million is essential. You will have the ability to take designs apart, critique and advise on buildability, whilst value engineering each project to ensure they are delivered to time and budget.

Applicants must have demonstrable experience of design and build schemes on building related projects in the UK.
