Project Manager Construction

Description

Project Manager required for a diverse portfolio of public & private sector projects.

Up to £75,000 + £5k Car allowance, bonus and personal benefits

Our client, a well-established building contractor who are highly successful in the delivery of traditional, D&B and framework contracts are recruiting for a Project Manager to join their specialist fit out division.

The Project Manager required will have a proven work history gained in the UK, working for either a small to medium sized contractor or specialist, on both public and private sector works in the commercial sector. In addition they need to have not only a strong understanding of the basic principles of construction methodology, but also a desire to produce a quality finish and ensure the successful and timely completion of each project.

You could be time served from a production/trades background or similarly degree qualified in Construction Management, but latterly your experience must include time spent in a traditional contracting environment.

You are successful, but feel the need for a new and exciting challenge with clearly defined career objectives in a growing business that can offer long term prospects.
