Project Manager Construction

Description

An opportunity for a Construction Project Manager to join a Development Management Consultancy on residential projects across London.

Up to £70,000 plus Profit Share Scheme, health and pension

A boutique Project & Development Management consultancy requires a Construction Project Manager from a Consultancy background to join their residential team.

As a business they undertake major new build and refurbishment projects to include one off luxury private residences, through to multi-unit regeneration developments, made up of private, affordable and section 106 housing.

You will be responsible for managing projects from pre-construction through to completion, so you will have a strong design and commercial acumen with the ability to critique designs and programmes, applying lean construction methodology and value engineering exercises.

Previous Project Management experience gained with a consultancy or developer in the UK is essential.

It's likely you will be degree qualified (Construction Management) with a minimum of three years post graduate experience gained as a Project Manager, working on residential schemes with typical build values in excess of £25 million.

Applicants will need to be living within a daily commute of central London. This is an excellent opportunity to work for a dynamic business that can offer long term career prospects on some exciting schemes.

Applicants with less or more experience will be considered if they feel suitable, but please note this is not an entry level role, which is reflected in the salary being offered.
