Site Manager

Description

Speyhawk are recruiting for a Site Manager with specialist facades experience gained on major projects in London.

Up to £60,000 + Travel Allowance, Bonus Scheme & Benefits

The company is well known within the field of building facades, curtain walling, roofing and cladding and offer clients a 'total envelope solution', with a first-class reputation for the delivery of the entire construction process from specification, design through to installation on landmark projects throughout London.

Projects are typically commercial by nature and include retained facades, heritage work, listed buildings and complex structures. You will have a proven work history in either Main Contracting or Specialist Contracting, with demonstrable experience both on and off site, pre & post construction is essential, having managed major façade packages, in particular refurbishment.

A high level of written and verbal communication is required and it is likely you will be qualified to degree level (Construction Management) or minimum HNC. You will report directly to the Project Manager and work closely with the design, QA and cost management teams. As the Site Manager you will attend meetings and report back on progress and health and safety in line with the company's policies and continue their impressive safety record.

If you wish to join a well-established company who have a strong order book and be part of their scaled expansion, then apply below or through our website in strict confidence quoting the reference: Site Manager Facades JP736
